TEXTBOOK:

Weiten, W., Hammer, E., & Dunn, D. (2014). ADJUST. Belmont, CA: Wadsworth.

ADDITIONAL REQUIRED READINGS:

In addition to your textbook, students will be expected to read and be ready to discuss other relevant scientific papers and/or articles from the popular press. Links to these readings will be posted on OWL.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Accurate knowledge about the principles of psychology can be of value in everyday life. This course will focus on guiding the student toward an appreciation of how psychology principles and insights can be applied to everyday adjustment to life tasks, and to coping with life problems. A focus on thinking critically about claims regarding human behaviour will be emphasized. Material that cuts across several branches of psychology (including clinical, personality, social, developmental, cognitive, biological, industrial/ organizational and health psychology) will be discussed. Not only will students learn about psychological theories and research, they will also be encouraged to apply this information to their own lives as a way of achieving better self-understanding and of living more effectively. Sample areas of application will include coping with stress, building self esteem, self-control, social relationships and influences, gender and sexuality, and the world of work. Course material will also touch on concepts in the area of abnormal psychology and the use of psychotherapy as a treatment for psychological disorders. Findings from the emerging field of positive psychology, which is the scientific study of optimal human functioning, will be discussed throughout the course.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

This course is designed to help the student:

- understand research methods necessary for drawing appropriate conclusions concerning human adjustment, and enhance critical thinking skills
- consider the relationship between personality and psychological adjustment
- identify the biological, emotional, personal and contextual factors in stress
- gain awareness of the processes involved in both healthy and unhealthy adjustment to the demands and challenges of living
- review issues related to the development of positive social relationships, varying gender roles, healthy sexuality and work and career satisfaction
- develop insight into their own and others' behaviour and mental processes
- learn about effective strategies for self-management and self-improvement

- distinguish among various psychological disorders, and the types of therapies used to treat psychological disorders
- gain an understanding of the aim and scope of the emerging field of positive psychology

EVALUATION

Student evaluation will be based on three exams, and class participation and brief assignments.

Exams: (80% of the final mark) Exams will consist of multiple choice and short answer questions. The first exam will be held during class on Oct. 23rd, 2014 and will be worth 20% of your grade. The second exam will be held during class on Jan. 29th, 2015 and will be worth 30% of your grade. The final exam will be scheduled by the registrar's office during the final exam period, and will be worth 30% of your grade. Exams are NOT cumulative. Questions on each exam will be based upon all information presented in class (lectures, class discussions, audio-visual presentations, guest lecturers), and assigned readings. Please note that grades cannot be adjusted on the basis of need. Your mark in the course will be the mark that you earn. Tests and exams cannot be re-written to obtain a higher mark, and additional assignments to improve grades will not be provided.

Personality and strengths assignment: (10% of the final mark) As part of our course content, we will be looking at personality styles and adjustment. Students are required to complete 2 personality assessments with different focuses, available online (The Big Five Personality Test (<http://www.outofservice.com/bigfive/>) and the VIA Character Strengths survey (<http://www.viacharacter.org/www/The-Survey>) and answer questions concerning their results. Greater detail will be provided on the OWL course site. The assignment is due on October 2nd, 2014.

Class participation and active learning exercises: (10% of the final mark) This mark will be based upon class attendance, participation in class discussions and completion of brief in-class and/or out-of-class assignments. Students will be required to work both individually and/or in groups to carry out these brief exercises designed to extend your knowledge of the material through direct application of course content. Active learning activities may take place in any class, are not announced in advance, and you must be present in class to complete them.

BRESCIA UNIVERSITY COLLEGE ACADEMIC POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

1. POLICY REGARDING MAKEUP EXAMS AND EXTENSIONS OF DEADLINES

When a student requests academic accommodation (e.g., extension of a deadline, a makeup exam) for work representing 10% or more of the student's overall grade in the course, it is the responsibility of the student to provide acceptable documentation to support a medical or compassionate claim. All such requests for academic accommodation must be made through an Academic Advisor and include supporting documentation. Academic accommodation on medical grounds will be granted only if the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete her academic responsibilities. Appropriate academic accommodation will be determined by the Dean's Office in consultation with the student's instructor(s). Please note that personal commitments (e.g., vacation flight bookings, work schedule) which conflict with a scheduled test, exam or course requirement are not grounds for academic accommodation.

A UWO Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is required if a student is seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds. This documentation should be obtained at the time of the initial consultation with the physician/nurse practitioner or walk-in clinic. A SMC can be downloaded under the Medical Documentation heading of the following website: <https://studentservices.uwo.ca/secure/index.cfm> . If it is not possible to have an SMC completed by the attending physician/nurse practitioner, the student must request documentation sufficient to demonstrate that her ability to meet academic responsibilities was seriously affected. Please note that under University Senate regulations documentation stating simply that the student "was seen for a medical reason" or "was ill" is not adequate to support a request for academic accommodation. All documentation is to be submitted to an Academic Advisor.

Whenever possible, requests for academic accommodation should be initiated in advance of due dates, examination dates, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and Academic Advisor in a timely manner.

The full statement of University policy regarding extensions of deadlines or makeup exams can be found at <http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2014/pg117.html>

2. ACADEMIC CONCERNS

If you feel that you have a medical or personal problem that is interfering with your work, contact your instructor and Academic Advisor as soon as possible. Problems may then be documented and possible arrangements to assist you can be discussed at the time of occurrence rather than on a retroactive basis. Retroactive requests for academic accommodation on medical or compassionate grounds may not be considered.

If you think that you are too far behind to catch up or that your work load is not manageable, you should consult an Academic Advisor. If you consider reducing your workload by dropping one or more courses, this must be done by the appropriate deadlines (refer to the Registrar's website, www.registrar.uwo.ca, for official dates). You should consult with the course instructor and the Academic Advisor who can help you consider alternatives to dropping one or more courses. Note that dropping a course may affect OSAP eligibility and/or Entrance Scholarship eligibility.

The Dean may refuse permission to write the final examination in a course if the student has failed to maintain satisfactory academic standing throughout the year or for too frequent absence from the class or laboratory.

3. ABSENCES

Short Absences: If you miss a class due to a minor illness or other problems, check your course outline for information regarding attendance requirements and make sure you are not missing a test or assignment. Cover any readings and arrange to borrow notes from a classmate. Contact the course instructor if you have any questions.

Extended Absences: If you have an extended absence, you should contact the course instructor and an Academic Advisor. Your course instructor and Academic Advisor can discuss ways for you to catch up on missed work and arrange academic accommodations, if appropriate.

4. POLICY ON CHEATING & ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site:

http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf.

Students are responsible for understanding the nature of and avoiding the occurrence of plagiarism and other academic offences. Students are urged to read the section on Scholastic Offences in the Academic Calendar. Note that such offences include plagiarism, cheating on an examination, submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials, impersonating a candidate, or submitting for credit in any course without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course in the University or elsewhere. Students are advised to consult the section on Academic Misconduct in the Western Academic Calendar.

If you are in doubt about whether what you are doing is inappropriate or not, consult your instructor, the Student Services Centre, or the Registrar. A claim that "you didn't know it was wrong" is not accepted as an excuse.

The penalties for a student guilty of a scholastic offence (including plagiarism) include refusal of a passing grade in the assignment, refusal of a passing grade in the course, suspension from the University, and expulsion from the University.

Plagiarism:

Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea or a passage from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offence (see Scholastic Offence Policy in the Western Academic Calendar).

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com.

Computer-marked Tests/exams:

Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating. Software currently in use to score computer-marked multiple-choice tests and exams performs a similarity review as part of standard exam analysis.

5. PROCEDURES FOR APPEALING ACADEMIC EVALUATIONS

All appeals of a grade must be directed first to the course instructor. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the course instructor, a written appeal signed by the student must be sent to the Department Chair. If the response of the department is considered unsatisfactory to the student, she may then submit a signed, written appeal to the Office of the Dean. Only after receiving a final decision from the Dean may a student appeal to the Senate Review Board Academic. A Guide to Appeals is available from the Ombudsperson's Office, or you can consult an Academic Advisor. Students are advised to consult the section on Academic Rights and Responsibilities in the Western Academic Calendar.

6. PREREQUISITES AND ANTIREQUISITES

Unless you have either the prerequisites for a course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you will be removed from the course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

Similarly, you will also be deleted from a class list if you have previously taken an antirequisite course unless this has the approval of the Dean. These decisions may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course because you have taken an antirequisite course.

7. SUPPORT SERVICES

The Brescia University College Registrar's website, with a link to Academic Advisors, is at http://www.brescia.uwo.ca/academics/registrar_services/index.html . The Western Registrar's website is at <http://www.registrar.uwo.ca/index.cfm> . The website for the Student Development Centre at Western is at <http://www.sdc.uwo.ca/> . Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health @ Western <http://www.uwo.ca/uwocom/mentalhealth/> for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

Portions of this document were taken from the Academic Calendar, the Handbook of Academic and Scholarship Policy and the Academic Handbook of Senate Regulations.
