COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course explores the concept of leadership and different models of leadership that can be employed in business organizations. It also examines the skills of effective leaders, the importance of context for leaders, and case studies of successful leaders in business. Topics may include leader as individual, team leadership, leading change, and creating vision and strategic direction.

COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the end of this course students will be able to:

- 1) Understand the importance of leadership.
- 2) Understand and apply various leadership theories and concepts to business issues.
- 3) Model expectations of employers.
- 4) Demonstrate effective research skills.
- 5) Demonstrate effective critical thinking and reasoning skills.
- 6) Demonstrate effective written and oral communication skills.

Students may vary in their competency levels on these outcomes. They can expect to achieve these outcomes if they honour course policies, attend classes regularly, complete all assigned work in good faith and on time, and meet all other course expectations of them as students.

COURSE STRUCTURE AND CONTENT

3 lecture hours/week; 0.5 course.

Lectures will be integrated with reading materials, in-class exercises and group discussion of case studies. A course syllabus will be uploaded on OWL.

Major Assignment	55%
Final Exam	25%

EVALUATION

Class Participation

This course uses an active learning method, which requires much greater involvement of the student in class than the traditional lecture method. The very nature of this approach demands a high level of student attendance, preparation and contribution in class.

The class participation grade will be divided equally between a written contribution component and a class contribution component:

1. At the beginning of designated classes students will be expected to submit answers to questions posed in relation to assigned readings and/or case studies, which will be assessed on the basis of clarity and accuracy/persuasiveness according to a grading rubric posted on OWL.
2. At the end of each class the contribution of a student will be assessed on the basis of professionalism (e.g., attendance, attention) and influence (e.g., critical thinking and analysis) according to a grading rubric posted on OWL. (One of the objectives of this course is to model the expectations of employers, and employers expect that employees will attend work, prepare in advance of meetings, actively participate in decision-making, and persuade others to support their point of view.)

Family medical issues, personal medical issues, family bereavement, and participation in University sports teams are acceptable reasons for failing to contribute only with appropriate documentation from your academic advisor. Note:

3. Any student who, without academic accommodation, misses more than 25% of scheduled classes will receive a class participation grade of "0" for the course.
4. Under University regulations, an instructor can determine at which point absenteeism has become excessive and approach the Dean who may prevent the student from writing the final exam, thus preventing the student from passing the course.

Major Assignment

1. Each student will identify a controversy or gap in knowledge in relation to best practices in business leadership, and submit a research plan for feedback.
2. The student will then undertake the planned research and develop an annotated bibliography, selecting, reviewing and evaluating a minimum of 10 sources on the topic. The annotated bibliography will be submitted for grading. Follow-up research may be required.
3. Next, a 7-10 page report will be prepared analyzing the controversy or gap in knowledge, evaluating the literature, and arriving at a tentative conclusion.
4. The student will then contact a business leader and develop a list of questions as the basis of a 30-60 minute research interview to gather knowledge or resolve a controversy, and submit this list for feedback.
5. Finally, the student will carry out the interview and then write a 5-7 page case study analyzing the responses of the business leader and relating them back to the best practices report.

The major assignment represents 55% of the course, and is allocated as follows:

Component	Grade	Due
Research Plan	Formative evaluation (no grade)	February 3
Annotated Bibliography	20%	February 24
Best Practices Report	20%	March 16
Discussion Guide	Formative evaluation (no grade)	March 16
Case Study	15%	April 6

Details concerning the expectations for each component of the major assignment along with grading rubrics (if applicable) are posted on OWL.

The research plan and discussion guide are mandatory, but will not be graded. Their purpose is to provide students with feedback to improve the quality of the graded components. Note: If either the research plan or the discussion guide is not submitted, the student will receive a grade of "0" on the graded component that immediately follows.

Students must complete all graded components of the major assignment in order to receive a passing grade in the course.

Submission of both a hard copy and an electronic copy of the graded components of the major assignment is required. The electronic copy is to be uploaded onto OWL for a plagiarism check. Late assignments without an academic accommodation will receive a grade of "0".

It is expected that work will be your own. Writing, spelling and grammar are important and are taken into consideration in grading. If you are particularly concerned about your written language skills, seek help from the Writing Centre at Brescia, UWO, or one of the other Affiliates.

Final Exam

The format may be multiple choice answer, short answer or essay, or a combination of these. Further details will be provided to the class later in the term.

BRESIA UNIVERSITY COLLEGE ACADEMIC POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

1. POLICY REGARDING MAKEUP EXAMS AND EXTENSIONS OF DEADLINES

When a student requests academic accommodation (e.g., extension of a deadline, a makeup exam) for work representing 10% or more of the student's overall grade in the course, it is the responsibility of the student to provide acceptable documentation to support a medical or compassionate claim. All such requests for academic accommodation must be made through an Academic Advisor and include supporting documentation. Academic accommodation on medical grounds will be granted only if the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete her academic responsibilities. Appropriate academic accommodation will be determined by the Dean's Office in consultation with the student's instructor(s). Please note that personal commitments (e.g., vacation flight bookings, work schedule) which conflict with a scheduled test, exam or course requirement are not grounds for academic accommodation.

A UWO Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is required if a student is seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds. This documentation should be obtained at the time of the initial consultation with the physician/nurse practitioner or walk-in clinic. A SMC can be downloaded under the Medical Documentation heading of the following website: <https://studentservices.uwo.ca/secure/index.cfm> . If it is not possible to have an SMC completed by the attending physician/nurse practitioner, the student must request documentation sufficient to demonstrate that her ability to meet academic responsibilities was seriously affected. Please note that under University Senate regulations documentation stating simply that the student "was seen for a medical reason" or "was ill" is not adequate to support a request for academic accommodation. All documentation is to be submitted to an Academic Advisor.

Whenever possible, requests for academic accommodation should be initiated in advance of due dates, examination dates, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and Academic Advisor in a timely manner.

The full statement of University policy regarding extensions of deadlines or makeup exams can be found at <http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2015/pg117.html>

2. ACADEMIC CONCERNS

If you feel that you have a medical or personal problem that is interfering with your work, contact your instructor and Academic Advisor as soon as possible. Problems may then be documented and possible arrangements to assist you can be discussed at the time of occurrence rather than on a retroactive basis. Retroactive requests for academic accommodation on medical or compassionate grounds may not be considered.

If you think that you are too far behind to catch up or that your work load is not manageable, you should consult an Academic Advisor. If you consider reducing your workload by dropping one or more courses, this must be done by the appropriate deadlines (refer to the Registrar's website, www.registrar.uwo.ca, for official dates). You should consult with the course instructor and the Academic Advisor who can help you consider alternatives to dropping one or more courses. Note that dropping a course may affect OSAP eligibility and/or Entrance Scholarship eligibility.

The Dean may refuse permission to write the final examination in a course if the student has failed to maintain satisfactory academic standing throughout the year or for too frequent absence from the class or laboratory.

3. ABSENCES

Short Absences: If you miss a class due to a minor illness or other problems, check your course outline for information regarding attendance requirements and make sure you are not missing a test or assignment. Cover any readings and arrange to borrow notes from a classmate. Contact the course instructor if you have any questions.

Extended Absences: If you have an extended absence, you should contact the course instructor and an Academic Advisor. Your course instructor and Academic Advisor can discuss ways for you to catch up on missed work and arrange academic accommodations, if appropriate.

4. POLICY ON CHEATING & ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf.

Students are responsible for understanding the nature of and avoiding the occurrence of plagiarism and other academic offences. Students are urged to read the section on Scholastic Offences in the Academic Calendar. Note that such offences include plagiarism, cheating on an examination, submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials, impersonating a candidate, or submitting for credit in any course without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course in the University or elsewhere. Students are advised to consult the section on Academic Misconduct in the Western Academic Calendar.

If you are in doubt about whether what you are doing is inappropriate or not, consult your instructor, the Student Services Centre, or the Registrar. A claim that "you didn't know it was wrong" is not accepted as an excuse.

The penalties for a student guilty of a scholastic offence (including plagiarism) include refusal of a passing grade in the assignment, refusal of a passing grade in the course, suspension from the University, and expulsion from the University.

Plagiarism:

Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea or a passage from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offence (see Scholastic Offence Policy in the Western Academic Calendar).

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com.

Computer-marked Tests/exams:

Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating. Software currently in use to score computer-marked multiple-choice tests and exams performs a similarity review as part of standard exam analysis.

5. PROCEDURES FOR APPEALING ACADEMIC EVALUATIONS

All appeals of a grade must be directed first to the course instructor. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the course instructor, a written appeal signed by the student must be sent to the Department Chair. If the response of the department is considered unsatisfactory to the student, she may then submit a signed, written appeal to the Office of the Dean. Only after receiving a final decision from the Dean may a student appeal to the Senate Review Board Academic. A Guide to Appeals is available from the Ombudsperson's Office, or you can consult an Academic Advisor. Students are advised to consult the section on Academic Rights and Responsibilities in the Western Academic Calendar.

6. PREREQUISITES AND ANTIREQUISITES

Unless you have either the prerequisites for a course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you will be removed from the course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

Similarly, you will also be deleted from a class list if you have previously taken an antirequisite course unless this has the approval of the Dean. These decisions may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course because you have taken an antirequisite course.

7. SUPPORT SERVICES

The Brescia University College Registrar's website, with a link to Academic Advisors, is at <http://brescia.uwo.ca/academics/registrar-services/> . The Western Registrar's website is at <http://www.registrar.uwo.ca/index.html> . The website for the Student Development Centre at Western is at <http://www.sdc.uwo.ca/> . Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health @ Western <http://www.uwo.ca/uwocom/mentalhealth/> for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.
